

Privacy Statement

Surviving Economic Abuse (SEA) will only collect and store information about you that you have willingly provided. We aim to be open about collecting this information and clear about what we will use it for.

We will collect and store your personal data on the basis of your consent and/or our legitimate interests (which include compliance with applicable laws, rules and regulations). We will never sell or swap your details.

If you change your mind after 'opting in' to receive information from us you can unsubscribe by emailing us: info@survivingeconomicabuse.org or calling us on 07551 783193. Our data controller is Nicola Sharp-Jeffs.

We ensure that there are appropriate technical controls in place to protect your personal details. They are stored in an Excel spreadsheet which is password protected. We also work to make sure that your data is properly protected through firewalls and monitoring.

We make sure that your data is only seen by people who need to view it for their work and that our staff are trained in protecting your information.

We will hold your personal information on our systems for as long as is necessary for the relevant activity.

You have a right to ask for a copy of the information we hold about you. If there are any discrepancies in the information we provide, please let us know and we will correct them.

If you are not happy about the way in which we are processing your personal data, please contact us at info@survivingeconomicabuse.org You also have the right to make a complaint to the UK Information Commissioner's Office.
